

PICAB

2018 Awardees

“Antigen-Specific Immunotherapy of Myasthenia Gravis in Domestic Dogs – A Pilot Study”

Oliver Garden, PhD, Henry and Corrine R. Bower Professor of Medicine; Chair, Dept. of Clinical Sciences and Advanced Medicine

Eric Lancaster, PhD, MD, Asst. Professor of Neurology

“Personalized Diagnostics of Canine Lymphoma”

Amy Durham, VMD, MS, DACVP, Assoc Professor of Pathobiology

David Roth, MD, PhD, Simon Flexner Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine, PSOM

2017 Awardees

“Using Comparative Genomics to Direct Immune Targeting of Shared Neo-Epitopes to Prevent Metastatic Sarcoma”

Nicola Mason, BVM, PhD, Associate Professor of Medicine

David Roth, MD, PhD, Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine

“Cell-based therapy to target B cells within the central nervous system; a pilot study in canine neuroinflammatory disorder”

Jorge Alvarez, PhD, Asst. Professor of Pathobiology

Amit Bar-Or, MD, FRCP, FAAN, FANA, Melissa and Paul Anderson President’s Distinguished Professor

2016 Awardees

“Cell-based therapy for seizures by transplantation of human stem cell derived inhibitory interneurons modified for rapid maturation; a feasibility study in dog pups”

Stewart Anderson, MD, Assoc. Professor of Psychiatry

Charles Vite, DVM, PhD, Assoc. Professor of Neurology

2015 Awardees

“Novel variants of procoagulant factors using protein and gene therapy for privately owned dogs with hemophilia”

Mary Beth Callan, VMD, Professor of Medicine

Valder Arruda, MD, PhD, Associate Professor of Pediatrics